It is my privilege to present to you the Annual Report and audited accounts of Sewa International for the financial year 2016-17.

As the new Bharat emerges keeping in tune with times, Sewa International is engaged much more consciously and actively in nation's development to ensure that its social, economic and environmental footprint is enhanced. This year, as more than 6000 people benefited from our three projects in Uttarakhand, Varanasi, and Reang (Bru) Tripura; they became the part of ever growing Sewa family.

In seriatim, this report showcases Sewa Kashi as our focus project. The discoveries of science are tangible and with the advent of the power loom, the handloom workers of Banaras found themselves out of work. Following the age-old trade and generations-old weaving skills, the new dawn in garment industry left the traditional handloom weaver bereft of their livelihood. Sewa International intervened and launched its project, "Swachh-Shikshit-Kushal Kashi", for the development of Handloom weavers in Ramnagar and adjoining villages in Kashi. The focus of the project is on skill development, sanitation, and education. We have installed 30 toilets, established 5 education centres and run regular training and workshop for weavers; benefiting more than 1500 people in the reporting period.

NGOs play an essential role in embedding the development in civil society, anchoring the actions in consonance with the needs of society. Over the last few years, Sewa International and its partner organizations have become a spearhead of reforms, embodying a dynamic and positive energy, rethinking the way of working to improve and bring all around development. Our rehabilitation work in Uttarakhand is growing at a steady pace with 102 SHGs, 10 Computer training centres, 6 Knitting centres running successfully, benefitting more than 3500 people. Under Sewa Krishi project, we distributed more than 1200 kgs of seeds benefiting more than 500 women farmers. We trained 350 youth and developed 25 treks under Sewa Saahas project. Under the health project of Uttarakhand, we trained 35 health workers in First-Aid training, benefiting more than 500 people from the target area of Rudraprayag and Chamoli districts.

I would like to put a special mention of our Reang (Bru) Tribal Development Project in Tripura. Sewa International took initiative to improve the condition of our reang brethren and started 15 Education centres, Handloom training, Bamboo training, Computer training, and Sewing centres benefiting more than 500 people in the reporting year.

I would like to congratulate thousands of volunteers who through hard work, dedication and passion are engaged in bringing about a better world. A greater amount of constancy and development could be mobilized by directing the zeal of workers and donors to the goal of selfless service. Sewa International aims to develop volunteers full of strength, confidence, faith, zeal, and fearlessness. Renunciation and service are the national ideals of Bharat and Sewa International exhort its volunteers to walk the path with detachment. Answering the call of consciousness and demands of society our volunteers are filled with the will to serve the nation and preserve its great heritage. The unfailing abiding source of their strength is the willpower. Our volunteers work round the clock in 16 states in Bharat and 20 countries across the globe, with a will to improve the quality of life holistically, materialistically, individually and collectively.

In this spirit, I wish to thank all our associated organizations for their commendable work and I encourage them to deepen evermore their actions and coordination to support the foundation for a developed and sustainable Bharat. I thank all of our donors for their very generous support and hope that you will continue to support us for years to come. Our partners across Bharat and world continue to be a source of exceptional strength and want to thank them for their dedication and co-operation. I would like to acknowledge the contribution, support and commitments of my colleagues on the Board and Sewa Team.

SURYANARAYANA RAO "SURU JI"

Late Sri Suryanarayan Rao, born on 20th August 1924, was the founding visionary of 'Sewa International'. He initiated the global movement, "Sewa International" which was founded on the cultural & scriptural values of ancient Hindu philosophy.

He served the 'Sangh' as a Pracharak for more than 70 years before his worldly journey came to completion on 19th November 2016. We consider our continuation of his mission as a token of reverence for him & his vision.

HIS VISION

Suryanarayana Rao "Suru Ji"

A vision, combined with action as well as a core belief that what you contribute can fundamentally change the paradigm or people's world views, has the potential to find acceptance & followership across the globe. Sri K. Suryanaryana Rao was a visionary who understood this very well & hence, contemplated a global Hindu mission to serve the needy, the underprivileged, the underserved, the underdeveloped in order to benefit masses & communities without expecting them to renounce or forego their religious, cultural or ethnic beliefs. The idea was of acceptance & service as opposed to passive coercion or imposition. As a matter of fact, 'Service before Self' was a philosophy propounded by none other than Swami Vivekananda who galvanized the Indian society to break the shackles of colonial bondage, thus empowering oneself to serve the world selflessly. Suruji, the popular name that Sri Suryanaryana Rao was known by, had studied the life of Swami Vivekananda in his youth and was very inspired by his world views, especially those around 'selfless service'. This was compounded by the vision of Dr. K. B. Hedgewar, the Sarsanghchalak of the Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh and the organization that trained Suruji for a very long period of time. Suruji was deeply influenced by the ideological, philosophical and spiritual stance of the 2nd Sarsanghchalak of RSS. We consider ourselves fortunate to be a part of 'Sewa International' that has now grown into an influential, widespread organization reaching out to the Indian Diaspora in more than 40 countries and actively serving communities in up to 20 countries. A natural calamity comes unannounced & leaves people devastated because of the loss of life & property that it causes. In such scenarios, relief work carried out by NGOs or sansthas like ours is often considered a divine intervention by the victims of said calamity. We have risen up to the challenge to serve people affected post the Gujarat earthquake, Tsunami relief and rehabilitation work in Sri Lanka- Tamil Nadu- Kerala, the Nargis cyclone in Myanmar, hurricane Katrina in Louisiana, Uttarakhand flash floods, Hurricane Harvey in Houston, Texas or Irma related relief in Caribbean.

Suruji often quoted Swami Vivekananda's famous quote, "they alone live who lived for others, the rest are more dead than alive" and inspired a whole lot of people, their gender, caste, religion notwithstanding, to join Sewa activity across Bharat. He extended this to other parts of the world by motivating Indians across the world to serve the country of their origin as well as communities in the countries of their adoption. Suruji led the discussions about the global activity of Sewa during the Vishwa Sangh Shibir, 1995 in Vadodara. Though a smaller group of some 30-35 karyakartas from various countries participated in this baithak, the agenda covered a whole lot relevant & important issues. While the baithak gathered great support & proposals for streamlined funding were also discussed, Suruji's prime focus remained on highlighting various key points that could potentially contribute to the spread of Sewa International nomenclature across countries. However, it was brought to a point of consensus that the unit will have to be registered under local rules and a broad relationship be generated among these units to work effectively. I had the privilege of attending this meeting as an invitee and could see an idea that had the potential of taking shape of a global mission. During his lifetime, Suruji travelled to various countries on different occasions. His travels took him to the United States, Canada, Caribbean countries, UK, The Netherlands, Germany, Kenya, Singapore and Malaysia. Swayamsevakas from all the countries have fond memories of his travel and his remarkable speeches. The Vedanta idea of experiencing Divinity in the creation and serving the Divinity by serving the creation was propounded by him in Feb 2001 in Delhi during an International Conference that was attended by scholars from Europe and Turkey. This made a long lasting impact on the guest scholars, bringing Sewa to the fore of serving the underprivileged. This was followed by two more International conferences, one in Frankfurt, Germany in 2003 and the other in St. Petersburg, Russia in 2006.

Suruji had a fond memory of a letter written to him by Sri Gururji, the 2nd Sarsanghchalak of RSS which was written to him post the successful organization of a huge Dharmachaya Sammelan held in Udupi, Karnataka in 1969 under the banner of the Vishwa Hindu Parishad. Suruji was given the responsibility of executing this conference. He would quote the content of the letter at any relevant inquiry about the Sangh, serving all without any discrimination. Journalists had the penchant for asking questions surrounding the controversial subject as to whether the Sangh differentiates between religious or caste lines. Sri Gururji had written in one of his letters to Suruji that "disasters do not discriminate between religion & religion, caste & caste, creed & creed, then how can one differentiate while providing Sewa". Real Hindu teaching & philosophy is based on the spirit of serving the society without discrimination. Suruji popularized this amongst all Sangh activists while he practiced this himself. He truly epitomized the saying, Manav Sewa is Madhav Sewa"

Northeastern India is a hotbed of strife, promoted by vested interests from within & across borders. The Bru tribes are a victim of one such strife that left them homeless since 1997. These internally displaced refugees are living in a deplorable state in makeshift camps on the borders of Mizoram & Tripura. ### Weekly awareness camps on Health & Sanitation

Knowledge about traditions, education, health & hygiene, sanitation, superstitions etc. is shared via awareness camps conducted every Saturday in Naisinghpara & Ashapara Camps. Information is dissipated by showing documentaries and presentations with the help of a projector and screen run using a generator due to lack of power supply. Around 300-400 people of all ages, come and get benefited through these programs.

Uttarakhand Rehab project, sponsored by the Government of Goa, started post devastating floods of 2013, which left thousands homeless, dead and injured. Sewa was initially pressed to action to provide relief to the survivors and resolved to work for holistic socio-economic development of the Garhwal's region's community. Skilling with the aim of livelihood creation, is at the heart of the project. Sewa Kaushal Vikas Kendras in district Chamoli and Rudraprayag are the nodal agencies, to be set up by SI, to carry out several developmental initiatives which can be viewed under following programs: Sewa Krishi, Sewa Yuva Jyoti, Sewa Mahila Jyoti, Sewa Saahas and Swasthya Sahayogi Sewa

In the year 2016-17, a diverse range of activities were carried out by the respective departments. ## Sewa Krishi

Agriculture is one of the most significant sectors of economy in Uttarakhand. Owing to its topography, Uttarakhand can yield a variety of crops which can be a stable source of income for a huge portion of the population of the area. Some factors causing regression in this sector are- lack of technology know-how, unavailability of good seeds, small land holdings, lack of access to credit etc. Team Sewa developed a micro-action plan for the area to overcome the challenges which were identified through community mobilization efforts and surveys conducted in nearly 70 villages in the five different Sewa Mandals. Important information like prospective crops, and bank, opportunities for tools, training and technology and further aspects like water resources, fruits, floriculture, dairy and allied sectors were explored and a solution oriented approach was adopted by the team. Activities conducted in the year were as follows:

1. Seed Distribution:

- A total of 1142 kg seeds were distributed, benefitting 445 women farmers in 6 mandals of Narayankoti, Chandrapuri, Kandara, Pokhari, Tapovan, and Simli mandals.
- A total of 500 kg ginger, 300 kg turmeric, 50 kg French bean, 30 kg ladyfinger, 5 kg peas were distributed in first phase of distribution.
- In the second phase of distribution 250 Kg Pea, 5 Kg Onion, 1Kg Marigold, 1 Kg Chamomile was distributed.

2. Training and Capacity Building:

- On 10 July 2016, a model farmer seminar was organized at Sewa Chandrapuri centre that saw participation of 18 model farmers from both Rudraprayag and Chamoli districts. They discussed the various aspects of sustainable organic farming in the region.
- Training on Nursery preparation was provided to 18 members of 3 SHGs at Chandrapuri mandal in collaboration with Sewa Srujan team.

3. Demo Centres

- 3 demo centers for learning modern agricultural practices and techniques are operational now viz. Chandrapuri, Gairoli, and Pokhari.

Due to its extraordinary efforts in a difficult terrain of Garhwal, Sewa International has been selected as the principal partner for implementation of National Agricultural Science Fund (NASF) project by Indian Council for Agricultural Research (ICAR) in Chamoli and Rudraprayag district.

Sewa Mahila Jyoti

Knitting Training Centres - Importance of skills has been recognized by the Govt. of India. By imparting skills one enables not only an individual but an entire community. Sewa trained 98 women in knitting in the year at its Knitting Training Centres namely Simli, Tapovan in Chamoli district and Narayankoti, Chandrapuri in Rudraprayag district. Sewa International has established an operational Production Centre in Chandrapuri, for providing livelihood earning opportunities to the trained women, connecting producers with the customers: The team participated in various exhibitions where it displayed and sold the beautifully knitted items and hence facilitated the knitters in earning their livelihood.

Sewa Yuva Jyoti

Sewa International is working steady to empower the youth, which is the foundation of the future. In today's world we breath technology therefore it is essential for the young generation to adapt to the changes and conquer the challenges that the new technology oriented era is throwing at them.

Keeping this in mind, 10 Computer Training Centres viz, Agastyamuni, Simli, Tapovan, Chandrapuri, Mayapuri, Ukhimath, Andrawari, Pokhari, Vasukedar and Deval were made operational with a total no. of 212 students trained during the period. At present 206 students are having their ongoing courses in 10 centers.

Additionally, Sewa set up a library, through its education initiative Akshar Bharati, at each of its Computer Centre to promote the habit of reading among the local students. The students from nearby community have shown interest boosting our morale and encouraged us to pursue this initiative further.

Pradhan Mantri Kaushal Kendra (PMKK)

Sewa International turned a new leaf this year by venturing to work with the Govt in Skill Development sector. The main purpose of the new venture is to provide employable skills to our beneficiaries in a sustainable way, so as to reduce dependence on donor funds for continuation of Skill Programs.

We were selected by NSDC (National Skill Development Corporation) for allotment of UK1 cluster in Garhwal region (Uttarakhand) to establish 7 State-of-the Art Model Skill Centres called as Pradhan Mantri Kaushal Kendras (PMKK) along with its consortium partner, FTEC Skill Development. The locations for these centres would be in the districts of Dehradun, Haridwar, Pauri, Tehri, Rudraprayag, Uttarkashi and Chamoli. We would be training youth in different sectors like IT/ITES, Healthcare, Beauty & Wellness, Tourism & Hospitality, Agriculture, Food Processing, Telecom, Electronics, Apparel and Retail etc., who shall be provided employment assistance after course completion. 12 tribal college going girls are residing in this hostel so that they can continue their higher studies which wasn't available in their area. An additional rooftop was also added this year for the utilization of roof area for cultural purposes.

SAMATOL FOUNDATION, MAHARASHTRA

Sewa International supports Samatol Foundation, which works with 'runaway children' in and around Mumbai area. It provides them a safe shelter till the time they are reunited with their family or stand on their own feet. This year Samatol foundation organized a month long camp, namely, 29th Swami Vivekanand Manparivartan Camp where participants came from states such as Bengal, Chattisgarh, Madhya Pradesh, Tamil Nadu, Andhra Pradesh, and Maharashtra. In this camp, the runaway children and delinquents were oriented and provided guidance, as to what could be the best course of action for these kids.

This was a unique camp, where the runaway children were also united with their families. They were oriented to have and maintain a positive outlook on life and face the challenges bravely as they come. The send-off ceremony was an emotional fare, as the parents of the child meet their kid, whom they thought they have lost forever.

JAMMU & KASHMIR REHAB

Sewa International undertook School Construction work in District Kishtwar, Jammu, under which 2 schools in Salana and Nagseni were selected.

The schools at Salana and Lilaran Pullar Nagaseni were badly damaged and need more rooms to expand and provide education to kids in nearby villages. Sewa International decided to rebuild these destroyed schools. Due to the unrest that followed death of terrorist Burhan Wani, the construction activity has been really affected and we hope that schools would be completed in the coming year.

KARUNAI TRUST, SAIDAPET, TAMIL NADU

Sewa International supports Karunaii Trust, an NGO working for divyang children in Saidapet, Chennai. The organization focuses on children with mental conditions, from the underprivileged section of the society. Sewa International helped in the reconstruction and upgrade (from one floor to a two floor eco-friendly building) of the building, which was damaged during the Chennai floods of 2015.

Sewa International is also helping to provide all the facilities free of cost to these children for e.g. uniform, meals etc.

OM SHANTI DHAMA

Sewa International through its various projects tries to nurture the cultural ethos of the country. The Gurukul of Om Shanti Dham is one such initiative supported by Sewa International, providing a unique blend of ancient Vedic education and modern education in a residential gurukul setting. "I am Gunador Reang, I have left my home in 1997 when the ethnic clashes ensued in my village. I came here on foot with my family; I had no home, no farm, no livestock, no source of income and I had my whole family to feed. I was scrapping through to make the ends meet, never had the steady income. Then I came to know about the bamboo training program run by Sewa International. I decided to join the program. I learned the basics of the Bamboo furniture making. This has helped me immensely. Earlier I used to make 2000 rupees per month which was not every month; now I earn 3500 rupees per month, as steady income. This has not only stabilized my family but also given me a sense of security, which I never had before." – Gunador Reang, Bru Refugee Camp Sewa Tripura

Tripura

"I had no job prospects and not even adequate education. Living in these camps, is no life. There is nothing to do here, and to go outside to earn, I need some skills. If I had those skills, I could go out and earn for my family, send them money, lessen their struggle a bit. I came to know about the computer training program run by an organization, Sewa International. I joined the program and completed my course. Immediately after the course, I got the job. I now earn 4500 rupees per month, I am able to support my family and that makes me the happiest." - Nancy Loly, Bru Refugee Camp, Sewa Tripura

"My name is Kajal, I am 11 years old and live in Ramnagar basti. I come to Sewa International education center. I study, I play, and I have made so many friends here. My mother is happy that I am studying, and my marks also improved. I scored more than my brother in unit test. I am very happy. I like my teacher a lot. She teaches me Maths, Science, English and she never yells at me." – Kajal, Ramnagar Basti, Sewa Varanasi

Varanasi

"I am a handloom weaver, my family is in weaving business for 3 generations. After power loom came I have been out of job ever since. I have never done farming, have no land to do the farming. I live with my son and his family. Absence of income made our condition deplorable, I was under huge debt, which kept increasing. Sewa International came in my basti, they told us about the training program they are going to run for the handloom weavers. I joined the program, and learned the new designs. Now not only I get month long work, but also I have bought another handloom and my whole family helps in the weaving, even my wife and daughter-in-law help us in the weaving. Sewa International also help me get the 'Bunkar card' from the government." – Vijay, Ramnagar Basti, Sewa Varanasi

Varanasi

"When Sewa International people told me about the SHG, I did not know what exactly they are talking about. I kept thinking all night, they said if we could save and work together, we can increase our income by ourselves! I spoke to other women in village and we agreed to make our own SHG. Now we meet every month, maintain our own register, give loans to the women in need, from our group. Sewa International also provided free seeds for our farms. We produced the crop from those seeds, then they gave us training in packaging and processing. We packaged our own product and sold it in Madmaheshwar rural mela. I am hopeful for future now, I am going to work hard and give my son a better tomorrow, with the money I earn." – Asha Devi, Sewa Uttarakhand

Uttarakhand

"My husband is in army, he is on the job 9 months a year. I used to sit idle; I decided to join the knitting center in Chandrapuri. I not only learn machine knitting but now I am Center In-charge and train other women too. Sewa International provided us knitting training, machine repair, and other equipment we needed for the sweaters to come out well. They also taught us to maintain the knitting machines by ourselves." – Rekha Devi, Sewa Uttarakhand
